Week 12 Documentation

Report the errors and challenges you are facing.

I am facing the challenge of applying the CSS template on my webpage because of how my webpage code and the template code need to be customised to fit one another. However, I will continue working at it until the code gives me no more errors and my webpage looks thematically consistent. Otherwise, I will manually customise the CSS of my webpage.

I am almost done with the draft of the data story – now, the challenge is how to present it alongside the other elements on my webpage, namely the data visualisations such that the flow of reading is smooth from top to bottom.
